Destructive Fire in Memphis

MEMPHIS Sept 8 —The most destructive fire which has occurred for ten years happened this morning. It originated in a shoemaker's shop on 2d street and owing to the long drought and combustible nature of the buildings before the engines could fairly get to work the flames spread rapidly. It was thought the great fire of Chicago would be repeated. Within an hour from the time the fire was discovered the entire block from Union to Monroe streets was on fire. The air was filled with sparks which lighted on numerous places fully ten blocks distant. When the fire had reached the extensive carriage works of Bruce & Co many guests of the Peabody House believing that building would follow evacuated it. The streets were crowded with people some of whom rendered valuable assistance in removing goods. Day was breaking when Bruce & Co's manufactory fell with a great crash the huge walls and roof smothering the flames as do This enabled the firemen to partially contest the fire but afterward the flames had spread to the mills, livery stable Wallace & Gibson's carriage works and Warner's livery stable in fact swept everything to Union street. For a long time the postoffice opera house and court rooms were in danger. The streets are filled with goods and inmates of small shops on Union street. Many barely escaped with their lives. The total loss is not far from $210 000 one half covered by insurance, nearly all local

M Carteret on part of his fellow citizens, declared that the presence of the Arbitration was an honor to Geneva and hoped that all nations would follow the example of England and the United States by settling their differences through such a mode of peaceful appeal to reason and Justice. Count Schoppeis replied in words of praise to the city of Geneva and took occasion to speak of the man who had achieved independence for Italy Count Cavour one of whose friends he was proud to have been and added that Geneva was doubly dear to him as the birth place of the mother of the great statesman

The High Court's Award

LONDON Sept 9 —The uncertainty as to the amount of award of the Geneva council causes anxiety and has a depressing influence in the market on American securities.

Bismarck and the Jesuits

NEW YORK, Sept 9 —The London News of August 28th says that Prince Bismarck doubtless counted the cost when he resolved on the expulsion of the Jesuits from Germany though he knew he was dealing with an order which has evidently perplexed or baffled the arts of the ablest statesmen in Europe. It is now announced that the law to enforce the departure of the Jesuits led to popular riots in Rhenish Prussia. In the mining and manufacturing town of Essen the Roman Catholics resolved to back up the protests of their bishops against the new law by organizing a torchlight procession in honor of the expelled fathers on the evening of their departure. To allow a public manifestation against the law would have been very unlike Prussian authority so the procession was forbidden. The prohibition resulted on Friday last in a riot. The mob attacked and destroyed several houses and were proceeding to greater lengths when two battalions of soldiers arrived and put a stop to the proceedings. On Saturday however, the disturbance was renewed and the soldiers were compelled to charge the crowd and order was not restored until considerable numbers of the rioters were wounded

NEVADA

Mining News and Politics

ELKO Sept 9—We learn from good authority that exceedingly rich lead mines assaying ten ounces of silver per ton and 8 per cent lead has been found twenty miles northwest of this place. It is estimated that three hundred tons of ore cropping was in sight. A well known San Francisco mining operator has secured the claim

Reports from Newhouse's mine near Mountain City Cope District are fully as favorable as first reported. At last accounts they were down thirty feet and find the ledge increasing in richness. Two men are taking out from $6,000 to $8 000 per day

In consequence of the late Democratic nominations made here political matters have taken a lively turn and the county elections will undoubtedly be hotly contested.

AUSTIN Sept 9 —Andrews en route from Vallejo to this city left Battle Mountain on Friday's stage while suffering from an attack of delirium tremens and when near Silver Creek jumped from the stage fell underneath and the coach passed over one of his arms injuring him severely. He then wandered to Silver Creek Station becoming violent and drew a pistol but was disarmed when he fled to the mountains but was subsequently captured and brought back but Saturday night he again took to the hills

UTAH

Indian Affairs, etc

SALT LAKE Sept 9 —General Morrow returned from the south last night. Troops remain at the scene of the Indian troubles. At a council with hostile chiefs in Sanpete county the Indians positively refused to return to their reservation because they were starving and might as well be killed by soldiers and that agents were liars and thieves. Morrow notified them that they must return promising food on the way and full supplies at the reservation. The chiefs finally consented but would return to the valley if not fed. Morrow reports a perfect reign of terror in San Pete county. The people are wholly at the mercy of the savages. The arrival of troops was hailed with tears of joy. If the Indians are now properly cared for on the reservation there will be no more trouble if not war must come

Bribery has been tried on some of the jurors in the Fair case. One of them peached to the Court and the would be briber is in jail. His name is John Cardwell

Gold to the amount of $75 000 was assayed at Cariboo British Columbia, during the month of August being the largest during any one month since the office was established

The case of the collision of the steamer Senator with the ship River Krishna, off the heads at San Francisco, last Friday night, is to be investigated by the proper officers. The Captain of each vessel lays the blame on the other

The following events happened in San Francisco on the 9th: John Mullery was fined $300. Wm Nelson was fined $250. C Martin sued C Downing for money. A man named Smith got out of jail. A Chinaman was put on trial for murder and 700 out of 400 jurors summoned on the Fair case were excused, and no start made in getting a jury

Thirty six jurors of a panel of 200 summoned in Mrs Fair's case were called, sworn and examined as to their qualifications to sit as jurors in the case in San Francisco the 8th inst. All but two had formed an opinion one was excused and another had conscientious scruples against the death penalty. The court ordered triers to be called to decide as to the fitness of the last but no triers could be found who was qualified. It looks as if the empaneling of a jury would last as long as the former trial which occupied twenty four days

The San Francisco Foundry Company having discharged 22 boys, 3 girls and 15 men out of 100 operatives, and employed Chinamen in their places trouble was expected last night and a strong guard was kept on the premises. The threats however, were not carried out, and no riotous demonstration has been made. The company allege that the cause of the discharge of the white laborers was the impossibility of maintaining order among them. They claim that the boys or rather young men belong to the hoodlum element and habitually insulted the female operatives, indulged in fights and otherwise misconducted themselves and a part of the men sided with them. The discharged parties on the other hand claim that it is a mere question of cheap labor, and deny any misconduct whatever

POLITICAL NOTES

A rebel editor alludes to "Ulotes Grant."

The Buffalo authorities have squelched the sale of indecent publications. As this shuts off Frank Leslie's Day's Doings, it is a direct blow at Greeleyism.

In Holland, Ottawa county, Michigan forty Democrats have signed a manifesto declaring that they hereby leave the rotten Democracy and will vote the straight Republican ticket.

Vice President Colfax, in a letter to a friend in Washington, says there is no doubt of Indiana. She is sure in October, and will swell the electoral majority for Grant and Wilson in November

During the past few days as it becomes apparent to all that Greeley must fail in his Presidential aspirations and that Grant will inevitably be re elected gold has fallen three or four per cent

Mr Greeley is opposed to nepotism. He got his brother in law, John F Cleveland, appointed to two lucrative revenue offices and the New York Times has a copy of a letter written by the Philosopher requesting the appointment of his nephew to a place in that wicked New York Custom House

The Tribune boasts that its circulation has not diminished since its editor became a candidate for the Presidency. The mystery is partially explained by Judge Roberts, of Burlington, Vermont, who says that the farmers who have subscribed for a year are bound to take it to save their money but the Greeley photograph pumpkin seed dodge as a snare for club subscriptions, is no longer effective

It is current remark everywhere, in all circles, that the Greeleyites are fast getting sick on crow diet and developing significant bluish whiteness about the nose and under the eyes, indicative of something wrong in the neighborhood of the stomach. It is the testimony of border men that crow may be occasionally tasted for the joke of the thing but that it is dangerous to dine heavily on it if one expects to live.

Whether "the Greeley canvass" is a reform movement or not, is readily determined by the men who support him. In Pennsylvania his interest is almost exclusively in the hands of A K McClure, too well known to require a statement of his peculiar fitness to render a "reform movement" a farce. In New York Greeley is in the hands of the worst of the Tammanyites, who only need a chance to steal the National Treasury dry in the shortest period

The New York World gives notice that things are bad enough in that State and if they are to be made better there must be no more babyish nonsense. For instance the World says "The Greeley canvass is either a reform movement or a farce. If, here in Mr Greeley's own State, Fenton men or Ring men are put on the local tickets multitudes will denounce the reform pretense as not merely a farce but a fraud. To say nothing of what is demanded by the instinct of honesty we cannot afford to perpetrate such a blunder

Perceiving that Pennsylvania is lost in October and of course in November the Greeleyites are already busy in framing reasons for the disaster. In this the Tribune takes the lead. Its reason is that negroes are to be brought from Virginia—perhaps from Africa also—in numbers sufficient to carry the State for Hartranft. Besides this other games are to be played precisely what the Tribune is not able to state only that it is confident Pennsylvania is to be carried against the Greeleyites in October which, of course, settles the Presidential question. Only the confession of defeat will arrest attention

It is only a brief four years since that Greeley attempted to divert attention from Southern carpet-bagging by the following allusion to carpet bagging in the North. He then said "We do business in a city governed by carpet baggers only just over from Cork, Limerick and Sauer Krautenthal. The difference between the carpet baggers from Europe and those with which the rebellious Hamptons are afflicted is that ours are generally as deficient in intellectual culture as in property. We believe most of the Southern carpet baggers have at least made the acquaintance of the schoolmaster

Judge Hoadly whose word after his participation in the general scheme of "anything to beat Grant," ought to have considerable weight with the Greeleyites speaking of old Chappaqua says "His support of that infamous bill which gave to that now convicted scoundrel, Judge G Barnard the exclusive jurisdiction to grant injunctions and appoint receivers in the city of New York his partnership with Tweed in the manufacture of tobacco while in his newspaper condemning those who use it as blackguards his Fourierism his [illegible] on to Richmond his support of and faith in the bill by which Congress attempted to stop all traffic in gold and which bill they were compelled to repeal within a month after its passage signal was its failure in short his whimsical his crotchety erratic course stamps him as a public man of eminent unwisdom whom the American people would be as foolish to day to make President as they would have been to have trusted him with the power which Abraham Lincoln wisely exercised in the matter of the Niagara Falls conference "

John Dwyer late of Olympia, is out for Greeley. The manner of his getting 'out' is thus told by a local paper. "John Dwyer, who was fined $40 and costs for drunkenness resistance to the Marshal and contempt of court, more than three weeks since on failing to pay his fine was lodged in the city jail. He refused to work on the streets and was put on bread and water. Still he refused to work. He became infested with vermin and very modestly asked to be supplied with a new suit of clothes. The Justice thinking it would be the best policy to get rid of him, told him if he would leave town and never return that he would let him go—and so he went. He wrote, while in jail, an article giving his reasons for supporting Greeley and opposing Grant, which he wished to have published, but the Greeley papers declined the services of so distinguished a correspondent

Democratic Platform

The following is the platform adopted by the Straight-out Democrats at Louisville on the 4th instant

WHEREAS, Frequent recurrence to first principles and eternal vigilance against abuses are the wisest provisions for liberty, which is the course to progress and fidelity to our constitutional systems only is protection for either, therefore,

Resolved, That the original basis of our whole political structure is complete in every part thereof. The people in each State voluntarily created their State and formed in each State a Constitution, which provides for everything a State should be, for the protection of life liberty and property within it; and each State, jointly with others, provided the Federal Union for foreign and inter-State relations

Resolved, That all government powers, whether State or Federal, are trust powers coming from the people of each State and that they are limited to the written letter of the Constitution and laws passed in pursuance thereof, which powers must be exercised in the utmost good faith the Constitution itself providing in what manner they be altered and amended

Resolved, That the interests of labor and capital should not be permitted to conflict, but should be harmonized by judicious legislation. While such conflict continues labor, which is the parent of wealth, is entitled to paramount considerations

Resolved, That we proclaim to the world that principle is to be preferred to power, that the Democratic party is to be held together by the cohesion of time honored principles which they will never surrender in exchange for all the offices which Presidents can confer. The pangs of minorities are doubtless excruciating but we welcome an eternal minority, under the banner inscribed with our principles rather than an almighty and everlasting majority purchased by their abandonment

Resolved, That having been betrayed at Baltimore into a false creed and false leadership by a Convention we repudiate both, and appeal to the people to approve our platform and candidates who embody it

THE UNKNOWN PEOPLE —It makes one homesick in this world to think that there are so many fare people he can never know and so many excellent people that scarcely any one will know in fact. One discovers a friend by chance and cannot but feel regret that twenty or thirty years of life may be, have been spent without the least knowledge of him. When he is once known, through him an opening is made into another little world into a circle of culture and loving hearts and enthusiasm in a dozen congenial pursuits and prejudices perhaps. How instantly and easily the bachelor doubles his world when he marries, and enters into the unknown fellowship of the to him continually increasing company which is known in popular language as all his wife's relations. Near at hand daily no doubt, are those worth knowing intimately. And when one travels he sees what a vast material there is for society and friendship of which he can never avail himself. Car load after car load of summer travel goes by one at any railway station, out of which he could choose a score of life long friends if the conductor would introduce him. There are faces of refinement of quick wit of sympathetic kindness interesting people traveled people, entertaining people, as you would say in Boston, nice people you would admire to know whom you constantly meet and pass without a sign of recognition, many of whom no doubt are your long lost brothers and sisters. You can see that they also have their worlds and their interests and they probably know a great many nice people. The matter of personal liking and attachment is a good deal due to the mere fortune of associations. More fast friendship and pleasant acquaintanceship are formed on the Atlantic steamships between those who would have been only indifferent acquaintances elsewhere, than one would think possible on a voyage which naturally makes one as selfish as he is indifferent to his personal appearance. The Atlantic is the only power on earth I know that can make a woman indifferent to her personal appearance

T[illegible] MORNING [illegible] 1872

Maine Answers to Vermont

[illegible] by a majority [illegible] Republican [illegible] land [illegible] 000 for the Republican [illegible]

It [illegible] maintained [illegible] to show that the majority of 1871 which was 10[illegible] has been largely increased if not doubled. And thus it goes from Oregon to North Carolina, from North Carolina to West Virginia, to Vermont and to Maine. States always free and former slave States alike, condemn in tones unmistakable the great Cincinnati Baltimore humbug.

Is it Reform or Fraud?

Among those who primarily organized the movement which culminated in the Cincinnati Convention was Judge Hoadley of Ohio. He has recently been making a speech to his neighbors and fellow citizens in which he exposed the secret history of the Greeley Blair fraud and its anti climax repudiating the accomplished result and advocating the re-election of Gen Grant. His story of the origin and progress of the scheme is interesting and reveals how completely the original Reformers were hoodwinked and cheated by Mr Greeley and the Democracy.

It was in 1871 that several Cincinnati Republicans who approved the purposes of the Missouri movement by which Gratz Brown was made Governor, especially in its amnesty and free-trade aspirants, started an organization within the Republican party having similar aims.

Then came the Missouri call addressed to Republicans only, to which the Cincinnatian responded by an address signed by Judge Matthews, who proposed it, Governor Cox, Judge Stallo and Judge Hoadley, urging all who favored the proposed reforms to attend the Convention. Of this address Colonel Grosvenor was to circulate 50 000 copies throughout the country. Immediately two questions engaged the attention of friends of the movement. One was concerning the participation of Democrats, and the other concerning the participation of protectionists. The rank and file of the Democracy were ready enough to support it but the leaders demanded as a condition of support that the movement should seem to be wholly Republican. They believed that by running the coulter into the Republican party, as they expressed it, they would divide the Republican party at the cheap price of putting Republicans into high office and preserve their own organization intact for better times. Mr Greeley and his friends "offered to bring to the aid of the movement the powerful support of the New York Tribune [which is not an organ], a compact and organized party in the State of New York the Tammany Republicans under the lead of Senator Fenton and a powerful number of protectionist allies." The Cincinnati people believed that the movement ought to be a direct appeal to the people without distinction of party, and that, as Senator Schurz had said, the disintegration of the Democratic party ought to be an imperative condition of the participation of Republicans in it. Moreover they believed Greeley and Fenton and their allies the foes of reform. These differences produced voluminous correspondence and much personal consultation between the Cincinnatians and the Missouri folk, represented by Colonel Grosvenor. The Cincinnatians were so earnest that after it had been practically decided not to admit Democrats to the Convention they called another Convention under the auspices of the "Union and Reform Clubs," in which Democrats might participate.

Democrats were excluded from the original convention and Mr Greeley and his protectionist followers, who were not included by the terms of the invitation, were admitted and controlled the result. Against these decisions Matthews, Stallo, Cox, Hoadley and the other more prominent reformers of Cincinnati protested in vain. Before the convention, Judge Stallo informed his associates that he would take no further part in it, "regarding the movement as having become a partnership of God, Devil & Co which would surely come to grief." The rest although sympathizing with his judgment, still held on hoping against hope that either in the platform or the candidate they should secure some assurance of the reforms they sincerely desired. Mr Greeley in deference to the condition of things and to further his chances as a candidate, so far humiliated himself as to sign a call for a meeting in New York asserting that "federal taxation should be imposed for revenue and so adjusted as to make the burden on the people as light as possible," which was either an explicit contradiction of the doctrines of political economy maintained by him throughout his career, or a dishonorable juggle.

Judge Hoadley explains at great length the difficulties encountered in constructing the tariff plank of the platform, but this matter has been exposed already. The earnest Cincinnati reformers were beaten again by the politicians whose selfishness [illegible] their devotion to principle and then Mr Greeley was nominated, which was certainly the most absurd anti-climax of their efforts that could well be imagined. The blame for the wretched failure is very properly charged to the Missourians. Judge Hoadley says:

> The causes of this diversion of the Cincinnati movement from what its friends in Cincinnati contemplated are not far to seek. The responsibility in my judgment lies at the door of Carl Schurz and Wm M Grosvenor, and was caused by their fear that without the aid of Greeley and Fenton the movement would be too small to be effective and that the support of the Democratic leaders could not be had except in [illegible]. I had urged that the Cincinnati convention like the Pittsburg convention [illegible] should make no nominations but laying down the platform of principles should call a delegate convention for the nomination of candidates. To this Mr Schurz personally answered me that it was too late to form a new party [illegible] In other words Mr Schurz abandoned [illegible] policy—that of an appeal to the people for the [illegible] reform in government—[illegible] what is known as a peaceable [illegible] posed by the Missouri Republican newspaper.

This narrative by one of the most able and sincere promoters of the reforms which the Cincinnati movement was intended to forward makes some matters clear. One is that Mr Greeley is in no legitimate sense a representative of the reform sentiment that called the Cincinnati convention. It is [illegible] the representatives of [illegible] to use it for the [illegible] [illegible] their point now [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] expressed by our Democratic Greeley contemporaries [illegible] to sweep the country and their [illegible] unless they [illegible] presume that they will be glad to hide themselves in some [illegible] chasm before the [illegible] of November, unless they are blind to the [illegible] coming events which cast their shadows before. They were thrown into a very thick shadow in Maine yesterday. In the next month but one they will be cast into the thick darkness of political oblivion. The revolutions all sweep the wrong way for Horace. They don't crawfish a [illegible] they would.

If Republicans have any fears of their ability to carry Oregon in November they should send for Greeley. He made a little tour up into Maine, and having seen and heard him, she increases her majority against the party of which he is the leader by nearly ten thousand votes.

Will the hopeful man of the Herald who extracts so many imaginary Liberal [illegible] from very equivocal political [illegible] under the head of "Progress of the campaign," make at least a [illegible] in regard to Maine.

LETTER FROM SALEM

SALEM, Sept 9 1872

Quite as large a gathering is here now as is usual on occasions like the present. Of course preponderance of numbers among those who have been drawn hither is with the Republicans. Little noise is heard in regard to the Senatorial election but a deal of earnest feeling is manifested by friends of the respective candidates. Yet no acrimony appears and it seems probable that the whole contest will pass without much excitement or bitterness.

Both Houses this morning effected a temporary organization without the least confusion. No attempt was made by either party to obtain an advantage over the other. After the temporary organization was concluded both Houses adjourned quietly, and all parties seem satisfied with the proceedings so far as they have gone.

Naturally the House will elect a full set of Republican officers, since the Republican majority in that body is quite strong.

But the Senate standing eleven Republicans and eleven Democrats, cannot organize without concessions. Mr Fay was chosen President of the Senate two years ago by the vote of both parties, hence it seemed fit under present circumstances to call him to the chair for the temporary organization. In all probability he will be elected permanent President of the Senate. The other officers of that body should be divided equally between the two parties, and this is suggested as a basis for compromise.

If the two Houses organize to day the Senatorial election will take place on the 17th inst. If they should not complete their organization to day it will be postponed for another week, the law fixing the time on the first Tuesday after the first Monday succeeding the day of organization.

There are Democratic contestants here for the seats of the Republican members of the House from Clackamas county. These are the only contests in that body, so far as now known. Mr Moody (Republican) is here to contest for the seat in the Senate for Wasco county. Mr Witham of Benton who was wrongfully expelled from the Senate two years ago to make room for Mr Strahan, whose aid was desired for some of the peculiar legislation of that session, is also here, but it is not probable that either Mr Moody or Mr Witham will be admitted, since a tie in a legislative body is an interesting situation for certain gentlemen who are desirous of holding things fast in their own hands. It is possible too, that the votes of the contestants on the Senatorial question may be considered in connection with their application for the seats they claim and that this fact may have something to do with the disposition of the question.

The current of talk is in favor of a caucus to nominate a Senator. Some indeed oppose the proposition but the weight of opinion is in favor of adherence in the matter to party usage. If a caucus is held some days will probably elapse before it takes place. Meanwhile the canvassing, buzzing and buttonholing goes on at a rate that is edifying to the looker on but which must be rather distressing to the members who have to bear it.

It is the universal feeling that a Senator must be elected within the lines of the party and that all disorganization must be avoided. Republicans want no combination with or assistance from Democrats in this matter and if any who claim to be Republicans undertake or sanction it the expression is that they may begin to get ready very soon for their political graves. Sentiment on this point is unmistakable.

The Coming Pope

From the [illegible]

The most likely successor to the present Pope is Cardinal Antonio Maria Panebianco of the order of St Francis. He was born at Terranova, Sicily, on the 14th of August 1808 and was made Cardinal by Pius IX in the consistory of the 27th of September 1861. He has always professed great admiration for Pope Sixtus V, whose life was his favorite study and in whose cell he lived. One day while in a reverie, he suddenly heard a knock at his door and a voice told him that he would be a Cardinal. This announcement did not surprise him; he merely replied, "To say," and he will, says the Gazetta, doubtless say the same when he learns that he has been elected Pope. Cardinal Panebianco once swore before Canova's monument to Clement XIV that he would restore the order of the Jesuits to its former greatness and this is said to be the great object of his life. He is the intimate friend of Father Beckx, the general of the order, but like his model Sixtus V he is excessively reserved, carefully concealing from every one his intentions for the future. He praises the Syllabus and defends the principle of infallibility with extraordinary skill and theological knowledge. [illegible] Pius IX [illegible] thorough belief in the Cardinal's [illegible] a young Italian girl prophesied some twenty years ago that the next Pope would be a monk of the order of St Francis. [illegible] concludes the [illegible] as Savonarola, Panebianco is the slave of a mediaeval Utopia which moves him to revive the church of the thirteenth century and the Society of Jesus, which he does not believe in mysticism regards him with anxiety not [illegible] knowing whether he is a friend or an enemy.

It was agreed that the [illegible] committee [illegible] that the House adjourn till [illegible]

It was agreed [illegible] Mr Baldwin take the place of Mr Simpson on the committee.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House was called to order at 2 P M. The [illegible] report of the Committee on Credentials was [illegible] Part of the report was as follows: The Committee would respectfully report that Messrs A R Shipley, [illegible] Martin and J A Hing of Clackamas county each present [illegible] certificates [illegible] by the Clerk [illegible] The holders of these documents [illegible]

J HINGLES [illegible]

J D ELLIS

Messrs Cook and Waldo presented a minority report recommending that the holder of each certificate be allowed to take seats within the bar of the House but be entitled to participate in any vote before the House until it is decided who are the regular sitting members.

A motion was made to adopt the majority report and was followed by a motion to amend by substituting the minority report so far as Clackamas county was concerned. After a lengthy discussion, in which a number of members concurred, that Clackamas county could not be deprived of her three votes even on questions of organization.

The Chair ruled the amendment out of order and the majority report was adopted.

By direction the Secretary of State administered the oath of office to the members.

On motion the House proceeded to the election of permanent officers.

Messrs Mallory and Osten were nominated for Speaker.

On voting Mr Mallory was found to have received 3[illegible] and Osten 18, and Mr B [illegible] 1.

Mr Mallory was declared elected.

The Chair appointed Messrs Caples and Simpson to conduct Mr Mallory to the Chair.

On taking the chair Mr Mallory said: "All whom [illegible] for the honor [illegible] thanks for this expression of your kindness. I am well aware of the responsible duties of the office I am about to enter. Much depends upon the skill and promptness of a presiding officer to determine as to the success of the deliberations of a body like this, and while I approach the duties of the chair with diffidence and knowing well how much I lack the necessary qualifications, I can promise that I shall use my best endeavors to discharge those duties [illegible] in a way that may meet with your approbation. I shall promptly and not to delay long any questions that are submitted to my discretion, choosing rather to pronounce a hasty decision than to delay it, having too great ambition to be correct. I shall of course rely upon your support, confident that although in my position I am to pronounce peremptorily upon certain questions you will be ready to correct my errors. The time allowed for the transaction of our business is short and I sincerely hope that we shall in our deliberations lose sight of any bitter feeling and political discord which have escaped from us previously. Let us not forget that we are here for the general good. The face of the State is turned toward us. Let therefore general good be our object and not the securing of political ends." [Cheers.]

The Secretary of State was directed to administer the special oath to the Speaker, after which the election of a permanent Clerk was decided to be in order.

Mr B A Clarke and Col W L White were nominated. Clarke received 3[illegible] votes and White 1[illegible]. Clarke was declared elected.

Samuel Simpson and H L Hannah were nominated for Assistant Clerk. Simpson received [illegible] votes and Hannah 15. Simpson was declared elected.

Dr J W Dodge and J H Turner were nominated for Engrossing Clerk. Dodge received [illegible] votes and Turner 1[illegible]. Dodge was declared elected.

On motion the usual oath was administered to the Chief and Assistant Clerks.

L Vinyard and B H Roach were nominated for Enrolling Clerk. Roach received 31 votes and Vinyard 17. Roach was declared elected.

E C Hadaway (of Yamhill) and Dolph Hannah were nominated for Sergeant at Arms. Hadaway received 31 votes and Hannah 1[illegible]. Hadaway was declared elected.

Mr Wagener was nominated for the position of Door keeper and on motion was elected by acclamation.

A motion to elect two Pages was carried. Master Carl Lindsay, a diminutive orphan from Marion, and Louis Conart of Portland were elected.

Mr Ellis moved that the rules of the House of last session be adopted. Carried.

A motion to provide the reporters of all papers in the State with seats within the bar was carried.

The usual oath was then administered to the remaining officers by the Secretary of State.

A motion to instruct the Chief Clerk to inform the Senate that the House was open for business was carried.

Adjourned.

The peon system of labor still remains throughout Mexico and upon the Rio Grande border of Texas. A poor man on account of his own or the necessities of his family once obliged to become the debtor of one of the wealthier classes becomes a bondsman and his servitude is enforced until, by his labor, he discharges the debt.

The young Italian Americans of San Francisco, nearly all of whom are Republicans, will inaugurate a Grant and Wilson Club. The members will make an active campaign among their countrymen for the purpose of uniting them on the Republican ticket.

The remains of the late Senator William Pitt Fessenden have been removed from the Western cemetery to Evergreen cemetery in Portland, and a magnificent monument of Caen stone erected over them. It is of the gothic order and elegantly carved.

TUESDAY MORNING SEPT [illegible] 1872

CITY.

ON A[illegible] — Scarcely a day elapses but what the dispatches bring intelligence of the death of human life in some part of the country by railroad collisions and steamboat explosions [illegible] every day occurrences. In many instances these terrible casualties are the result of causes which are probably beyond human power to avert, [illegible] many are directly attributable to want of proper caution against the liabilities of accident or gross carelessness. It is true that as the many auxiliary appliances of civilization are increased the chances for human existence correspondingly lessens. Before the application of steam and the inventions the engineer there were but few if any explosions. People were ignorant of the vast expansive power of steam, hence there was no necessity to test the strength of the subtle giant or the resisting endurance of boiler iron. The same can be said of the application of steam in the driving forward of heavy trains along the iron track at a rate of speed not conducive to the perfect security and well being of those who may be on board. Before the days of the locomotive there could not occur such class of accidents as collisions, running off the track, or any of the casualties incident to railroading. Almost every day men—operatives—are caught in various kinds of machinery and are either dreadfully mangled or crushed instantly to death. It may be set down as a correct proposition that as a people become civilized and inventions of all kinds multiply the liabilities of disasters, and the destruction of human life increase in a proportionable ratio. The tendencies of this age, while it can be said are [illegible] progressive, do not tend to promote the general security of life. People are instinctively drawn in the whirl and bustle and learn to thoroughly appreciate the fact that they are living in a very fast age. Human beings are now whirled from one side of the continent to the other with a rapidity that would be fearful for the people of the last century to contemplate. As these developments of the age are more and more rapidly advancing towards perfection, and consequently diverging from the old natural channels, it cannot be expected that the same degree of security surrounds one's life as when traveling was confined almost exclusively to the "old stage coach" of fifty years ago. Socially "familiarity breeds contempt" and it is equally true if taken in all the varied relations of life. Constant use of, and exposure to the most ponderous and complicated pieces of machinery where a false move or an unsteady nerve would place the operator in jeopardy of life or limb, creates an indifference and carelessness that makes the boldest shudder. Men may even train themselves to "smile with impunity in a powder house," while handling some of the most destructive of all elements to human life.

One cannot help indulging in such reflections as the above, or even wonder that the era of railroad [illegible] is being inaugurated in the State already, when witnessing the utter recklessness which characterizes the actions of those whose avocations expose them to the accidents of railroading. Every precaution is taken by the railroad companies in this State to keep the roads in good repair, and the most careful, experienced engineers only are employed, but accidents do continue to occur for which neither the engineer nor the company can be held accountable in any sense. No accident, to our knowledge, has yet occurred since the day the first locomotive was placed in operation along the railroads on either side of the river wherein the company or the engineers could be censured. Those who have been maimed or killed outright generally could not blame any one for the occurrence but their own recklessness. Such accidents have generally occurred to brakemen, section men or others working about the trains in the coupling of cars or jumping on or off of the trains when in rapid motion.

The man Brady, who was so seriously injured while attempting to get on board the cars in East Portland last Sunday, can blame no one for the sad results but himself. The same can be truthfully said concerning the unfortunate young man who was run over and instantly killed at [illegible] a few days ago. After all, a foolhardy, [illegible] disposition, has nearly as much to do in the accidental destruction of life and limb, in the United States and the Old World, as the much talked of "tendencies of the present age."

STORE ENTERED.—The store of Isaac Barman, on the corner of Front and Washington streets, was burglariously entered on Saturday night, and [illegible] amounting to a considerable sum stolen. The manner in which the burglars effected an entrance to the building is rather mysterious. A [illegible] situated at the rear of the store and opening out into a hall, connecting with the street, shows indications of being tampered with. On the side next to the hall, a very heavy wooden door [illegible] the entrance, and on the inside of the [illegible] is an ordinary door secured only by a [illegible] bolt. A thick, strong piece of wood [illegible] the door-way, secured at both ends by cleats and is attached by a pivot to the center of the outer door. This cross piece had been slipped past the end of the cleats, and the heavy door swung open. In several places the door had been cut, as if with a knife or sharp instrument. From appearances the thieves could not have easily got in at that place from the outside. The most reasonable supposition is that one of the thieves slipped inside the door on Sunday [illegible], while the store was open, and hid himself in one of the corners until night. If that supposition be correct, there must have been an accomplice who operated from the outside. The thieves evidently were after money which they supposed the safe contained. The safe had been unsuccessfully operated on as a number of marks and scratches as if cut by a cold chisel were seen around the edges of the safe door; also, about the lock and hinges. The thieves soon gave that job up and went after the clothes. A number of fine broadcloth coats, pants, silk vests, stockings, and [illegible] shirts were taken from the shelves and [illegible]. At least $500 worth of goods were stolen. There must have been a number engaged in the [illegible], as the goods would have loaded several men. The police are engaged in ferreting out the [illegible].

SERIOUSLY HURT.—A man named Brady, a [illegible], employed at the car shops, met with a serious accident at East Portland last Sunday evening. He [illegible] standing on the bridge along L [illegible], at a point where the railroad track crosses, as the passenger train came thundering down towards the depot. Brady desiring to go to that [illegible], concluded he would step on board the train and ride down. In his attempt to accomplish the [illegible] feat, he failed to gain his footing so [illegible] was the motion of the cars, and was hurled backward. He landed on the ground a distance of fifteen feet or more, and was picked up in an unconscious condition. He remained [illegible] for some time, and was at length removed to the Railroad Hospital. A physician examined the unfortunate man and pronounced the injuries of a serious nature, being almost wholly [illegible]. In falling he struck a piece of timber firmly buried in the earth with the lower portion of his breast. He is now at the Hospital under careful medical treatment but his recovery is doubtful on account of the character of the injuries he received.

CAPTURED.—Sheriff A Parker, of Linn county, arrived in this city from east of the mountains last evening, having in custody two persons arrested for horse stealing. A week ago last Sunday, two men hired a team from Merrick & Bartlett of Albany, and stated that they desired to go to Eugene City on business. Instead however, of going in the direction these two chaps made a straight line for the eastern slopes of the Cascades, [illegible] the Lebanon Wagon Road. Mr Parker was apprised of the fact, and arming himself with the necessary warrants gave chase to the thieves. He succeeded in overhauling them a few days ago at the Canyon House on the Canyon road. He modestly requested that the team should forsake all and come with him [illegible] they consented to do unconditionally. The three will return to Albany to day. If there is any law in Linn county to punish persons for [illegible] a horse and forgetting to return it, these [illegible] enjoy a not very remote prospect of cultivating the acquaintance of Bill Watkinds for a stated term.

A CASE WORTHY OF SYMPATHY.—About two years ago Mr O P Ohlson and family came to this State and purchased a tract of land situated about seven miles from St Helens. Here he built a neat house and soon had a portion of the land cleared and under cultivation and his prospects were bright for a happy home. On the 4th of last [illegible] the forest in the vicinity of his place caught fire and soon communicated to his fencing which was all destroyed and in spite of all his efforts his house and its contents soon shared a like fate. Thus in one short day he saw the fruits of two years' arduous labor swept away, and found himself in a penniless condition. From $300 to $500 will purchase sufficient building material to enable him to take a fresh start and papers will be placed in circulation to-day appealing to our citizens for funds for this purpose. Mr Ohlson is an industrious man and a good citizen and we hope our people will respond substantially to his appeal.

AN OLD THIEF.—Most of our readers have not forgotten that most redoubtable of thieves James Wilson. Over eight months ago Jim was arraigned on four distinct charges of larceny. He was duly tried and sentenced by the court to eight months imprisonment in the county jail. His term of confinement expired by limitation on the last of August. He was discharged but was again arrested last evening for larceny. Having occasion to pass by the store of Taylor & Brownell on Third street a little after dark he deliberately picked up a roll of sheeting and walked down the street. He was detected and taken into custody by officer McCoy. The case will come up for hearing this morning at the Police Court.

COUNTY FAIR.—We have received a neat poster of the Fifth Annual Fair given under the auspices of the Clarke County Agricultural Society which will be held at Vancouver, Washington Territory on the 9th, 10th and 11th of October. The Board of Managers desiring to promote as much as possible the interest of the farm and household have decided to offer increased premiums in each department of industry. The race course connected with the Fair Grounds will be put in as fine a condition as possible and proper purses for trials of speed will also be made up. Julius Suiste is Secretary, and M R Hathaway, President of the Society.

LADIES RELIEF SOCIETY.—The following is the report for August of the above society handed us for publication by the Treasurer Mrs Samuel M Smith. August 6th cash on hand $201 05 fines and dues, $25 25. August 26th interest on money loaned, $10 cash drawn from Ladd & Tilton $400 rent of "The Home" for July $12 donations, $2 total $652 90. Expenditures for the relief of the poor for the month of August $24 50 paid to Ladd & Tilton for credit account of The Home $226 62 paid on insurance $32, total $283 12. Cash in treasury, $369 [illegible]

COMPLETED.—Second street, in East Portland has at length been filled up to the established grade, extending from the southern point of the bluff to the bridge on S street. The requisite quantity of earth has been filled in and all that now remains is to level the street down. It is not yet known whether the track will be torn up or not. The street may be used as a side track on which to switch cars when the same are not required.

WILL START.—Major H M Robert, accompanied by Capt West, will start for Port Orford next Thursday morning. As previously stated the object of the visit is to examine the harbor at that point with the view of ascertaining the feasibility of making it a port of refuge. If the results of the inspection and preliminary surveys are favorable an appropriation will be recommended at once.

TO THE HOSPITAL.—The man spoken of yesterday as being in a strange condition at the city jail—sick to all appearances and unable to either sleep eat, drink or talk—will be sent at once to the County Hospital. He was examined yesterday, and an order granted to remove him to the hospital where the required attendance could be furnished him.

REMOVAL.—The printing office of the New Northwest has been removed to the OREGONIAN building. The editorial sanctum, until further notice, will be in the residence of the editor, on E street between Sixth and Seventh. Subscriptions for the paper will be received and receipted for at the OREGONIAN office, or by the editor at her residence.

STREET CARS.—We learn that work has already been commenced on First street preparatory to laying the track for the street cars in this city. All the necessary arrangements have been consummated, and active preparations will be commenced at an early day to carry into effect the objects of the corporation.

AT WHEATLAND.—The Government snag puller having completed all the necessary work at the head of Eola Slough, descended the Wallamet last Saturday to a point opposite Wheatland at which place the boat is at present engaged inspecting the channel and removing obstructions to navigation.

DISORDERLY.—A fellow last evening at the theater, during the performance, was so muddled by spirituous influences that he could not determine just when and where the applause properly belonged. To the relief of the audience he was led out and found comfortable lodgings in the city jail.

EXAMINED.—Last Saturday John F Kidder Superintendent of Construction on the Northern Pacific Railroad, took a trip to the front on the West Side road and expressed the opinion that it was built in a thoroughly substantial manner, and fully equal to that of any other on the coast.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.—The County Court, acting as a Board of Equalization, were examining the assessment rolls yesterday. The most of the week will probably be consumed in this important work to the tax payers.

COURTS.—The U S Circuit and District Courts convened yesterday morning. No business was transacted. The former stands adjourned until next monday morning, and the latter until Tuesday morning next.

GOES DOWN.—The dredger will go down to the mouth of the Wallamet this morning to inspect the channel at that point, and to remove whatever obstruction to the navigation which may be discovered.

PRESIDED.—Judge Denny is again able to preside at the Police Court, although he is still in feeble health. A number of cases were disposed of by him yesterday.

DUE.—The steamship Oriflamme will be due at this port this evening, from San Francisco, with freight and passengers.

Thermometer yesterday, 45°, 6?° 63°

PERSONAL.

Hon Stephen J Field having completed the business to be transacted at the present regular term of the United States Circuit Court returned to San Francisco on the last steamer.

W R Matthews, of the firm of Matthews & Pickering, dealers in lumber in this city, will depart on the next steamer for San Francisco. He will establish an agency for the St Helens Mills in that city, charter vessels etc. The brig Grace [illegible] has already been chartered and will load with lumber at St Helens.

AMUSEMENTS.

Another flattering audience was present last evening at Oro Fino Theater to witness the second rendition of "Macbeth." The piece was rendered in excellent style, and if possible there was a little improvement over its production on Saturday evening. The audience testified their interest and appreciation of the play both in general effect and detail by tumultuous applause during the continuance and at the close of the several acts. This evening a first class bill is offered the public. The evening's performance will commence with the beautiful four act drama entitled St Patrick's Eve. At the close a duet will be sung by Mrs Annie Fulford and Miss Minnie Pixley and the evening's performance will conclude with the laughable farce of the "Quiet Family." The public should avail themselves of the present opportunities to patronize this place of amusement as this week will close the season here for some time. Next week the troupe will open at Salem—the season continuing through the session of the Legislature and until the close of the State Fair.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE DAY.—Walking down Front street we met a friend of ours dressed in the height of fashion, and upon inquiring where he had his elegant garments from we were informed with no little surprise to us that the same were purchased of the irrepressible Kohn & Co 91 Front street. He had a complete outfit for the fall—coat pants vest, and a hat thrown in in the bargain—all for the sum of twenty dollars. The immense excitement and rush at Kohn & Co's at all hours of the day is a sight worth seeing. But no wonder they sell their goods cheaper than any other clothing house in the city. No opposition or competition can compete with the above firm. They have a great advantage in buying their goods, and can therefore undersell any of their competitors.

Brother Anderson.

BY THOMAS K. BEECHER.

I was to preach for Brother Anderson. He was a good pastor. Almost the last time I saw him he had just called on a lamb of his flock to ask after her spiritual welfare, and fifty cents toward his salary. He had left his tub and brushes at the foot of the hill, and he resumed them when he had made his call, for, like the great apostle, he used to labor, working with his own hands.

When swinging himself along slowly toward his home, after a day of work on walls or ceilings, few took him for a preacher. Splotches of whitewash showed fine upon his face; they were his business cards. Nature had done little to beautify him, the tailors nothing. He was short, broad, large-headed, and seemingly without neck. His cravats could never get under his chin. His eyes were very full, with smoky whites and slack lids. He was numerously clothed. His great breadth and small height caused many rents and wrinkles in the layers of his clothing. What was given him, though well worn and tender, he put on and went about his work without pride or apology.

For years I had met him, but had not known him. He was silent and contented. He never seemed to know, much less resent, the caste prejudice that weighs so heavily on his race. All this was long ago. He has preached his last sermon, and is, I doubt not, restfully awaiting the resurrection of the just.

I was to preach for Brother Anderson one Sunday afternoon. As I stood eavesdropping by his little wooden church, and awaiting for the hour to come, I heard strange noises inside—not the confused and voluminous noise of a crowd excited as in revival times, but a single wild cry now and then, or one heavy stamp, or a ringing clap from a pair of big tough hands—the creatures of will, and not the outburst of feeling. It was the corpse of a starved "class meeting," and the noises sounded as if jerked into being by the occasional galvanic shocks of some experimenter.

Punctual to the hour, Brother Anderson came rolling across the street and up to the door, and we went in together. After the usual songs and prayers I took for my text Paul's counsel to the Corinthians as to their disorderly meetings and meaningless noises. The sermon was in the main a reading of the fourteenth chapter of Paul's first letter, with comments and applications interspersed. I spoke for half an hour, and while showing consideration for the noisy ways of my audience, exhorted them to cultivate intelligence as well as passion.

"When you feel the glory in you, let it out, of course. Shout glory, clap your hands and all that. But stop now and let some wise elder stand up and tell what it all means. Men and boys hang around your windows, and laugh at you and religion, because they don't understand you. Some men, you know, have religion all in the head—clear, sharp, dry, and dead. Others, all in the heart. They feel in their bones. Now I want you to have religion in your heads and hearts. Let all things be done decently and in its order."

I was very well satisfied with my effort at the time—it seemed a success. As I sat down Brother Anderson got up and stood on the pulpit steps to give out a hymn:

"Let saints below in concert sing."

I am not certain that he could read, for he stood, book in hand, and seemingly from memory gave the number of the hymn and repeated the first two stanzas with deep and growling feeling. Of the third he read three lines:

"One army of de livin' God
To his comman' we bow;
Part of 'e hos(t) 'av cross'er flood,
An part

Here he stopped, and swallowing one or two chokes went on to say: "I love Brudder Beecher. I love to hear him preach this afternoon. He's told us a good many things. He's our good fren. An' he sez we'd better be more like de still kind, an' white folks more like us. An' when we all goes marching up to see de Lord, and I's so full ob lub an' de joy an' de glory dat I mus' clap my hans, and shout de good Lord's got some place whar we 'sturb nobody, and we kin shout—glory, glory! Bress de Lord! I'm safe, I'm safe in de glory at las'! I tell you, brudders an' sisters, dat heaven's a mighty big place, and dar's room for Brudder Beecher an 'us too.

Dat's so! Bress de Lord! Amen! Glory! (from the people.)

"An' Brudder Beecher sez dat 'tis'n de folks as makes mos' noise dat does the mos' work. He sez de ingins on the railroad only puff—puff—reg'lar breathin' like, wen dey's at work a haulin de big loads, an' dat de bells and de whistles don't do any work; dey only make a noise. Guess dat's so. I don't know 'bout ingines much, and I don't know wedder I's a puff—puff ingine or wedder I blows de whistle an' rings de bell. I feels like bofe (with a chuckle) sometimes! An' I tell you what, wen de fire is a burnin' an' I get's the steam up, don't dribe no cattle on de track; de ingin's comin! Clar de track! (This with a voice that shook the little house, and a 'magnetism' that thrilled and fixed me. Of course his hearers were by this time swaying, shouting, and amen-ing splendidly.

"An' de boys an' gals, an' clerks an' young lawyers, dey come up yar watch night an' dey peep in de windows an' stan' round de doors; an' dey laff and make fun full of 'lig'n! An' Brudder Beecher sez why don't we stop de noise now'n den an' go out an' tell 'em 'bout it—'splain it to 'em. An' I 'members wot de Bible sez 'bout de outer darkness, an' de gnashin' ob teeth. An' if dese boys an' gals stan' dar outside a laffin' bymby dey'll com to de wailin' an' de woopin' fus dey know. An' wen dey stan' roun' de great temple of de Lord an' see de glory shinin' out, de harpers harpin', and all de music, an' de elders bowin', and all de shoutin' like many waters, an' all de saints a singin' Glory to de Lam! 'spose God 'll say, stop dat noise dar! Gabriel! You Gabriel, go out an' 'splain?

"Yes, I see dem stan' las' winter roun' de doors an' under the windows an 'laff; dey peek in an' laff. An' I'member wot I saw last summer 'mong de bees. Some ob de hives was nice and clean an' still, like 'spectable meetings an' de odders was bustin' wid honey; an' de bees kep' a goin' an' a comin' in from de clover an' dey jes kep' on a fillin' up de hive, till de honey was a flowin' like de lan' of Canan. An' I saw all roun' de hives was the ants an' worms an' de great drones an' black bugs, dey kep' on the outside. Dey was' n bees. Dey couldn't fly to de clover an' de honeysuckles. Dey jess hung roun'd de bustin' hive an' liv' on de drippin's.

"An' de boys and gals come up yar and hang roun'. Jess come in an' we'll show you how de gospel bees do! Come in an' we'll lead you to de clover! Come in—we'll make your wings grow! Come in! won't yer? Well, den, poor things, let 'em stan' round de outside and have the drippin's. We's got honey in dis hive!"

Raising the hymn-book, with tender voice he took up the stanza just where he left it—

Part of 'e hos' 'av crosser flood,
An' part are crossin' now.

"Sing, brudders," said he; and to his "lining out" they sang the whole hymn as only such as they can sing.

All this was ten or twelve years ago. I remember that while he was speaking my sermon seemed to shrink and fade. And now, as I recall the scene and record his words but in part, I am feeling the power of his truth. Heaven's a mighty big place. The Father's house hath many homes and places prepared for many.

Was he dreaming of these as he went about our streets with tubs and brushes to whiten and sweeten the homes of men? Did he wear his rags contentedly, mindful of his robes shining and exceedingly white as snow? In that day when those who are last that shall be first, few will look down on Brother Anderson.

The New York Herald of August 25th, considering the late elections and their weight in determining as to the probabilities in November, says: "In short from the present outlook the prospect from every point in view is growing somewhat gloomy for Greeley, and unless in the results of the coming State elections he shall make a break in the apparently compact lines of the Administration the philosopher of Chappaqua, as a pilgrim for the White House, may

Lay down the shovel and de hoe,
And hang up de fiddle and de bow."

The "Democratic" Liberals are in favor of "forgetting the past," but they are for getting the offices too.

MARSHAL'S CITATION.—UNITED STATES OF America, District of Oregon—ss.

Whereas, a libel hath been filed in the District Court of United States of America, for the District of Oregon, on the 4th day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and seventy-two, by Messrs. Lawrence & Work and Dolph & Buchanan, Proctors, in behalf of William Tuttle, against the Steamboat "Hansahut," her tackle, apparel and furniture, and praying that the usual process and monition of the Court, that all persons interested in said vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, may be cited to answer the premises, and all due proceedings being had, that the same may be decreed to be sold, and the proceeds thereof to be distributed according to law. —Therefore in pursuance of the said monition, under the seal of the said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give notice generally, unto all persons having or pretending to have any right, title or interest therein, to appear before the aforesaid Court at the city of Portland, Oregon, on the 7th day of October, 1872, if it be a court day, or else on the next court day thereafter, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to answer the said libel and to make their allegations in that behalf.

Dated at Portland, in said District, the 4th day of September, A. D. 1872.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1864, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales I otherwise would have lost."
